PARTNERSHIP OVERVIEW

SeQent's product lines, when coupled with AVEVA offerings, provide the industries most advanced, scalable, and user-friendly plant floor communication platform.

FirstPAGE and FirstPAGE Alarm Manager product lines tightly integrate with System Platform, InTouch HMI and PI (formerly OSIsoft). This integration enables Alarms and Events to automatically escalate through a pre-defined hierarchy in real-time until the alarm is cleared.

The Marquee Manager and VideoSERVER product lines allow users to create Andon displays (LED/LCD) with Alarms and tags sourced directly from AVEVA products. This integration provides end-users with centralized management of data collection and business rule definitions. Integration with Schneider Electric EcoStruxure™ is also supported.

ARCHITECTURE OVERVIEW

The architecture of the SeQent Real-Time Decision Solutions platform is very straightforward and comprised of three major components:

- System Inputs: Sources of data from your plant equipment and applications/systems to be monitored.
- SeQent Server: Consists of FirstPAGE, FirstPAGE Alarm Manager, and Marquee Manager Server products.
- Outputs: Supported devices and destinations including smartphones, Motorola MOTOTRBO™ two-way radios, LED/LCD displays, and more.
